

Snowdon Masters Scholarships

Investing in inspirational disabled leaders

Apply now for up to £30,000 of funding towards a UK Masters course. Up to £15,000 scholarship for fees and a £15,000 allowance whilst studying.

Open to exceptional disabled students, influencers, role-models and leaders. Find out more at:

www.DisabilityInnovation.com/education/snowdon

Alicia achieved a First for her Masters of Laws studies at Cambridge and is hoping for a highly successful legal career.

She has Spinal Muscular Atrophy and is a full-time wheelchair user.

“I have really appreciated being at Cambridge, where I am measured by my ability and passion rather than my disability.”

SNOWDON

TRUST

Calling future disabled leaders, role models and influencers

Awarded by the Snowdon Trust and working alongside the Global Disability Innovation Hub, the scholarship will fund exceptional disabled leaders into UK based Masters courses.

Applicants should be able to demonstrate genuine leadership potential, have a proven drive for success and be committed to inspire the next generation.

All areas of study welcome.

www.DisabilityInnovation.com/education/snowdon

Funding up to £30,000; with £15,000 towards fees and a £15,000 allowance whilst studying

SNOWDON

TRUST